

Encore's Introduction

Professional Organizers and co-owners, Lori Firsdon and Barbara Warner, established Encore Professional Organizers in 2006. Members of the National Association of Professional Organizers, they provide real organizing solutions for real people.

Entrepreneurs and with seven children between their families, they have experienced the combination of juggling a professional life and parenting. These women specialize in onsite consultation, training seminars and speaking engagements to help enrich lives and increase personal productivity for individuals, workgroups and companies. Providing people with time saving and efficiency expertise, they will show you how to gain more control and get more accomplished, so you can enjoy a better life!

EncoreSPEAKS! is the speaking division of Encore Professional Organizers, LLC, specializing in delivering professional presentations for company employees and special events/conferences.

This introduction page may be modified, keeping the basic facts in place.